Dear Hiring Manager:

I speak IT, DevOps, Solution Architect, Solutions Integrator, and Developer to all levels of an organization, from the c-suite to the scrum stand-up. My entire career has been about designing, architecting, developing, launching and implementing software and hardware solutions. I have experience from both sides of the deal – as the vendor and as the customer.

I have a unique combination of cloud migration, software/hardware development, communication, consulting, and leadership experience. I've seen what works and what does not. I have a passion for recognizing and/or creating patterns of success and helping others apply those patterns. The current phase of my career has been more about solutions integration and DevOps rather than having my hands down in the code.

My expertise includes leading continuous integration and continuous delivery, providing outstanding client experiences, and establishing best practices for automated build, integration, and testing pipelines. I have successfully implemented automated container platforms. I have hands-on experience working through IaaS, PaaS, SaaS, and all phases of the software development life cycle with vendors, internal teams, end users, and customers from Fortune 100 companies to small start-ups.

One of my superpowers is having a learner mindset. I thrive on quickly understanding a client's needs and helping organizations implement enterprise solutions to solve complex business issues. My business acumen is strong across the energy, health care, e-commerce, manufacturing, aviation, government sector, and financial industries, both domestically and internationally.

I hope that I have been able to spark a mutual interest. You may contact me either by e-mail or phone to schedule a convenient time for an interview. I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

David A. Nicholas
